

IWU UTOMO PRIZE IN DEMOGRAPHY

CONDITIONS OF AWARD

1. INTRODUCTION AND RECOGNITION

Each year the School of Demography may offer one prize known as the Iwu Utomo Demography Prize.

The objective/s of the prize are:

The main objective of the Iwu Utomo's Award is to encourage and support research on topics that defined Iwu's research, fieldwork, and teaching focus. Researchers working on topics on Indonesian reproductive health, aging, and sexuality are candidates to receive this award.

The value of the prize/s awarded is $1000

The prize will be on offer from 2023.

Funding for this prize has been provided by:

A new postgraduate/post-doctorate award endowment has been founded in memory Iwu Utomo. Iwu was a passionate educator and researcher with a connection to the ANU since commencing her PhD in the mid-1990s. In 2002 she returned to ANU as a post-doctoral researcher, and built an incredible career working in the area of gender and population, and devoted her energies to the support of students working on Indonesia. We are grateful that alumni and staff who new Iwu supported this new fund as it will enable students to carry on this research as a wonderful legacy to her life's work.

2. ELIGIBILITY

The award is available each year to an ANU student who is:

- (a) a domestic or international student. (A domestic student is considered - an Australian citizen, New Zealand citizen, holder of an Australian Permanent Resident visa or a permanent humanitarian visa)
- (b) enrolled in a postgraduate research degree program or post-doctorate position in the Research School of Social Sciences or School of Demography
- (c) one or more eligibility requirements: The Fund will support a researcher working on demographic, reproductive health, aging, or sexuality topics in Indonesia.

3. SELECTION AND CONSTRAINTS

Selection is made on the basis of applicants meeting the eligibility criteria and then ranked according to their academic record rank: publications, teaching, conference presentation, media appearance, etc. Other factors, such as organization of activities that promote the wellbeing and life of Indonesian society (in Australia or Indonesia) will be taken into consideration.

The School of Demography reserves the right to make no award if it considers there is no applicant of sufficient merit. The selection committee may also vary the number of prizes if multiple winners are identified by splitting the prize.

Where required, the University Medal Committee will be available for qualitative or subjective assessment determinants if a decision is not reached within the College to determine prize winners.

4. RECIPIENT OBLIGATIONS

The awarding of a prize is based on the information provided to the University. A prize may be declined by the recipient once they have been notified as the prize winner. This must be provided in writing to Head of School of Demography no later than a month from notification.

If the prize is accepted by the recipient, they agree to the Publication of their name.

In some instances the recipient may be asked to:

- 1) write a letter of thanks to the donor;
- 2) participate in marketing activities and/or asked to provide a reflective statement.

5. REVIEW OF PRIZE

The award will be reviewed:

- (a) at the conclusion of the period outlined in section 1; or
 - (b) if any eligibility requirements are to be amended
 - (c) after 3 years
- whichever is earliest.

6. VARIATION TO CONDITIONS OF AWARD
