About this guide

Canvas is the new learning management system being introduced by the ANU to provide an easier, faster and better learning and teaching experience.

In this guide, you can find quick step-by-step references for completing popular student tasks in Canvas.

If you prefer to watch videos, you can find the same content covered on our YouTube Canvas tutorial playlist.

How to login to Canvas

To login to Canvas, go to <https://canvas.anu.edu.au/> and sign-on using your ANU single sign-on credentials (your ANU uID and password). You will be taken to your Canvas Dashboard.

If you are not enrolled in any courses running in Canvas, you will simply see a blank Dashboard when you login.

Canvas navigation

Canvas has two main navigation menus that can help you find your way around Canvas and your courses. These are the Global Navigation menu and the Course Navigation menu. In this Quick Start guide, we will look at the Global Navigation menu options first and then look at what you can access from the Course Navigation menu.

Global Navigation Menu

The Global Navigation menu allows you to access your Account details, your Canvas Dashboard, your Courses and Course Navigation Menu, Calendar, Inbox, the history of your activities and items visited in Canvas, the Canvas Studio for creating multimedia content, and a Help option for 24/7 Canvas technical support.

How to find your courses

The Canvas Dashboard (the first page you come to when you login to Canvas) displays your enrolled Courses as tiles for easy access. Select a course tile to go to your course site. You can then access the course Modules, learning materials, Announcements, Discussion forums, Assessments, your Marks and People (other students enrolled in this course) using the Course Navigation Menu.

Notifications. Please tell us how and when you would like to be notified of events in Canvas.

Dashboard

You can also access your courses from the Courses option on the Global Navigation menu. This will take you to the Course Home Page.

Welcome to your courses! To customise the list of courses, click on the "All Courses" link and star the courses to display.

How to manage your Canvas notifications

You can change default settings by setting your own notification settings. These settings will apply to all your courses but only apply to you; they are not used to control how course updates are sent to other users.

To change your notification settings, select the Account menu option from Global Navigation, then select the Notifications menu option.

On the Notification Settings page, you can view notification types and methods and manage how you receive notifications for your Canvas account and/or manage how you receive notifications for individual courses.

Notification Settings

Account-level notifications apply to all courses. Notifications for individual courses can be changed within each course and will override these notifications.

Daily notifications will be delivered around 18:00. Weekly notifications will be delivered Sunday between 10:00 and 12:00.

Notice: Some notifications may contain confidential information. Selecting to receive notifications at an email other than your institution provided address may result in sending sensitive Canvas course and group information outside of the institutional system.

It is recommended that you set your notification delivery type to "Notify immediately" so that you are always up-to-date with important messages about your course and tasks.

How to use your Canvas Calendar

The Calendar enables you to view your upcoming tasks in Canvas. Please note that tasks without an assigned date will not appear in your calendar. You can view calendar events by day, week, month, or agenda list (see figure 1 in image below).

To open your Calendar, go to Global Navigation and select the Calendar menu option. The Calendar default display shows information for all of your enrolled courses (see figure 2 in image below). You can turn on and off individual course calendars to customise your calendar view via the Calendars drop down menu (see figure 3 in image below).

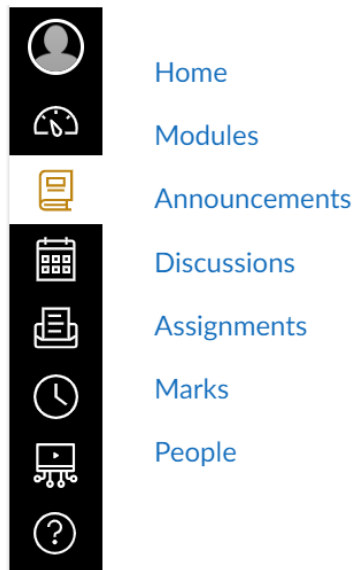

Calendar items display an icon next to the titles. The icon reflects the calendar item type: Discussion, Assignment or Event. You can add events, including recurring events, and to-do items to your personal calendar at any time in the navigation bar.

Course Navigation menu

Selecting Courses from the Global Navigation Menu will bring up a side bar with a list of courses. Here you have the option to view All Courses you are enrolled in in Canvas. Once you have selected the course you want to access, you will see the view below allowing you to view its Modules, Announcements, Discussion forums, Assignments, your Marks, and People (other Canvas users enrolled in this course).

Your course Home Page

Your Course Home Page features the Course Navigation menu, the content area, and the sidebar. The most recent course announcements will also display at the top of the page.

A screenshot of a course Home Page. On the left is a vertical navigation menu with icons and labels: Home, Modules, Announcements, Discussions, Assignments, Marks, and People. The main content area features a row of book covers including 'The Importance of Being Earnest', 'Virginia Woolf', 'The Price of Salt', and 'Freshwater'. Below the covers is a section titled 'Acknowledgement of Country' with text about the Australian National University's respect to First Nations. Underneath is a 'Course overview' section. On the right sidebar, there is a 'View Course Notifications' button, a 'To Do' section showing 'Nothing for now', and a 'Recent Feedback' section also showing 'Nothing for now'.

The sidebar To Do section shows up to seven items/assignments with due dates in the upcoming weeks. Assignments submitted through Canvas disappear automatically from the To Do list.

How to access Modules

Modules are where you access your course learning materials. The modules are most often organised by week/topic but might also be organised just by topic. You may also have Modules containing support information and assessment information.

In Modules, you can view all the modules in your course.

The screenshot displays the Canvas LMS interface. On the left is the Course Navigation menu, which includes links to Home, Modules, Announcements, Discussions, Assignments, Marks, and People. The Modules section is expanded, showing two weeks of content. Week 1: [ENGL2222/6222] Introduction and Creating classics includes Overview: Creating classics, Pre lecture activities: Week 1, Lecture: Week 1, Post-lecture activities: Week 1 (5 pts), and Summary: Week 1. Week 2: [ENGL2222/6222] Creating classics - The Odyssey includes Overview: Creating Classics - The Odyssey.

How to access Assessments

To access assessments, you have some choices depending on how your course has been set up.

If your course has an Assessments module, you can access your assessments and any support information from that module. Weekly assessment tasks should also be in the module for that week.

You can also select the Assignments option from the Course Navigation menu.

In Assignments, you can view assessments in your course grouped by due date or by type.

How to communicate and collaborate with others in Canvas

There are several ways to collaborate and communicate within Canvas.

Inbox

The Canvas Inbox is split into two panels and displays messages chronologically. You can view and reply to conversations and sort them by course or inbox type. To access your Inbox, select the Inbox menu option in Global Navigation.

Find out more about using the Canvas inbox.

Discussions

The Discussion Index page allows you to view all the discussions within a course as well as participate in course and group discussions. In Course Navigation, select the Discussions menu option. Discussions are ordered by most recent activity. On this page, you can also see Pinned Discussions that will appear at the top of the list, and Closed Discussions that have been closed for comment.

Most of your courses have a Course Q&A discussion forum. This is where you can ask general questions about the course, learning materials, learning activities, and assessments. You should check it regularly.

People & Groups

People shows all the other students enrolled in the course as well as your teachers. To get to the People page, select the People menu option in Course Navigation. Use the search bar to find a specific person.

Groups allow you to work together with other students. Your instructor may assign you to a course group, or another student may include you as a member in a student group. To access Groups via Global Navigation, select the Groups menu option, then select a group name you want to access.
